Mayor of London

Serious about London

Brian Paddick has 30 years' experience of fighting crime in London. Being a former senior police officer Brian Paddick is the best choice for a safer city.

The Liberal Democrat team are serious about making London a safer, greener and better City!

Cutting crime and the fear of crime will be his top priority as London Mayor.

As Mayor, Brian plans to chair the Metropolitan Police Authority to hold the Metropolitan Police Service to account for its performance in reducing crime. He's pledged to cut crime in London by 5% every year during his first term.

Ken Livingstone has resigned himself to failure on crime; Brian will take real action to get guns and knives off our streets.

Increasing Affordable Housing

The lack of affordable housing near where Londoners work keeps people off the housing ladder and contributes to congestion on the roads and overcrowding on public transport. Brian would use money currently spent on temporary accommodation to build new permanent social housing. He would bring unoccupied properties into use and take over redundant land to create more housing without the need to build on London's precious green spaces.

Quality Public Transport

Brian will improve London's overcrowded public transport and increase the reliability of Tube and bus services.

He'll review how the Tube is managed, following the collapse of Metronet and Labour's failed PPP project, and allow unlimited changes of bus within an hour for the price of one journey on an Oyster card.

Brian has launched a London-wide rail survey to give rail users a chance to have their say on what needs to be done to improve the system.

Keeping the Council Tax Down

Brian will keep the Mayor's contribution to the council tax down by cutting waste at City Hall to get better value for taxpayers' money.

Ken Livingstone has increased his precept by over 150% since he became Mayor, while spending more on press officers than the Prime Minister.

Havering & Redbridge residents are fed up with the Mayor who just works for inner London boroughs and Local Assembly Member who has also failed to deliver for the last eight years.

People want a change and the Liberal Democrats are committed to bring that change to improve local services for local residents.

Farrukh Islam has lived locally for 27 years. He is a Redbridge Councillor, which has given him a good understanding of issues faced by residents in the area. His 36 years experience in various professional capacities has prepared him to make a good contribution for the benefit of people of Havering & Redbridge. His auditing and Council experience is an advantage in scrutinising the proposals of Mayor of London.
